Preparing graduate students and postdoctoral scholars to excel as teachers, researchers, and mentors
What is CU-CIRTL?
We are part of a network of 22 research universities. Our programs prepare graduate students and postdoctoral scholars for academic careers, with a focus on teaching and mentoring in natural and social science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields.

Our Mission
CU-CIRTL seeks to create a future STEM faculty capable of combining superb research with evidence-based teaching practices that meet diverse learning needs.

Programs and Events
• Building Mentoring Skills for a Career in Academia workshops
• CIRTL Coffee Hours: Topics include the academic job search & teaching large STEM classes
• Online graduate seminars
• Teaching symposia and visiting speakers co-sponsored with the Center for Teaching Excellence
