Spring 2018 CIRTL Programming
The CIRTL Network’s spring semester runs January 29 through April 20

ONLINE COURSES | REGISTRATION RUNS DECEMBER 11 THROUGH JANUARY 22
- Diversity in the College Classroom
- Research Mentor Training
- The College Classroom
- Engaging Students in the Teaching of Statistics (short course)
- CIRTL Reads (short course)
- CIRTL MOOC: Advancing Evidence-Based Undergraduate STEM Teaching

ONLINE WORKSHOPS | REGISTRATION OPENS JANUARY 2
- Engaging All Students through Developmental Faculty Advising
- Getting Ready to Teach in the American Classroom: Building Rapport and Effective Communication Skills
- Getting Ready to Teach in the American Classroom: Cross-Cultural Analysis
- I Completed My IDP ... Now What?
- Integrating Effective Teaching and Assessment Practices in Biology Lab Courses Through Case Studies
- Science Communication for Any Audience
- Writing a Teaching Philosophy Statement

ONLINE DROP-IN EVENTS | NO ADVANCE REGISTRATION REQUIRED
- Digging Deeper: A Focus on Research Using Qualitative Design (CIRTLCast series)
- Exploring Inclusive Teaching within STEM Disciplines: Conversations Among Faculty, Future Faculty, and Students (CIRTLCast series)
- Productive Mentorship: Bringing Out the Best in Your Students (CIRTLCast series)
- Topics in STEMinism: Strategies for Inclusive Undergraduate STEM Education (CIRTLCast series)
- Exploring a Teaching Career at Community College (Event series)
- Teaching-as-Research Alumni Panel
- Teaching-as-Research All-Network Presentations

ONLINE COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE | NO ADVANCE REGISTRATION REQUIRED
- Equity in STEM for all Genders Community of Practice

Visit our website at www.cirtl.net to learn how to attend programming (account required). Anyone can register for courses and workshops; STEM/SBE grad students and postdocs from CIRTL institutions are given priority. Questions: registration@cirtl.net.